Comments Regarding Professor

I loved having Wei Zhu! The first day, I was really put off by his persona and his teaching style (which includes cold calling), but I am so glad that I didn't switch out of his class. He makes class interesting, and cold calling actually helps you remember what you got wrong and make sure that you are paying attention. This was probably one of my favorite accounting core classes so far!

Comments Regarding Course Content

Very fair grading style and what you learn translates directly to the exams. He does not try to trick you! Make sure you fully master all the in-class packets to do well on the exams.

Kink is very approachable, and makes herself available to meet with students or even skype if needed. She used to be an audit partner at PWC so she has a lot of experience that translates over to the course. She is a very fair grader and teacher.

Comments Regarding Course Content

If you have had an internship related to audit this class will feel pretty necessary. That being said I was able to gain some usefull skills in the course. There is a Tableau project which helped me better those skills.
